June Meeting will be held at MARCS Field

The June 9, 2005 Screamin' Eagles meeting will be held at the MARCS Kettle Field in Madison. Come as early as you can because we will be using the afternoon and evening to get the field in tip top shape and setting up for our event on Saturday June 11. The business meeting will be about last minute plans and a follow up on assigned duties as listed in the May minutes. We will probably adjourn to the corner bar to finish the evening. Pray for good weather!

See you at Madison. Le Roy

Watch that Accent!

Two Italian brothers, Guido and Gino, new to America, went to the California Employment Office. Guido was interviewed first and asked what kind of work he was looking for and what experience he had. Guido replied, "I ama pilot". The interviewer said he had a job for him and to go to this address and they will hire him immediately.

The second brother goes in and the interviewer asks what work he does and what experience he has. Gino replies, "Ima woodcutter". The interviewer says, "I'm sorry, we don't have anything for you right now".

Gino asks, "Why you havea job for my brother, Guido, and not one for me?" The interviewer answers, "Well, your brother has much more experience than you." Gino says, "Why he havea more experience? I'ma cutta the wood and hesa pile it!"

(OH NO!!)

Show and Tell

Harold Blossom made a new portable frequency box he is looking to sell, if someone is interested.

Ray Walsh brought in the lower wing of his D7 and had some covering comparisons between Nelson's Fabric and Super Cover-Rite. Ray prefers the Nelson's Fabric.

Mark Johnson brought in a Tensor 4D foam Biplane. Still waiting for the maiden voyage and that's why it's still in 1 piece.

Trez/Ed Sez - By Le Roy Stuczynski

Hi Eagles. Mom's house and the Gallery of Aviation stuff are substantially behind me. I've still got a couple of weathervanes and a large model display case and built models to deal with as well as some miscellaneous things now located in one full stall of my garage. But, for the most part, I can say it's over! The people who bought the house are very happy and will give me plenty of time to deal with the balance.

I hope all of you who have volunteered to do preparation work for our June 11 Fly In have followed through because it does take teamwork to run a successful event. Let's make this one the most successful ever! This month's meeting will be held at the MARCC event site so I hope you all come to help us ready the site for the event. Check the minutes to make sure you remember what you agreed to do before or during the event.

While you may think I now have time to play now that the house transaction is over, think again! I now have to play catch up for all of my own stuff. I may not fully recover until next year. Cleaning out someone's house is something I wish on no one and I guarantee I will try not to let my children have to deal with my excess baggage. If you haven't used a stored item in the last couple of years...GET RID OF IT!

See you at the MARCS field for the work night. Le Roy

A New type of Instrument Flying?

The passengers on a commercial airliner were seated, waiting for the cockpit crew to show up and get the flight underway. The pilot and co-pilot finally appeared in the rear of the plane and began walking up to the cockpit through the center aisle.

Both appeared to be blind and had their eyes covered with huge sunglasses. The pilot was using a white cane, bumping into passengers as he stumbled down the aisle and the co-pilot was using a guide dog. At first the passengers didn't react, thinking that it must be some sort of practical joke. However, after a few minutes the engines started spooling up and the airplane started moving down the runway.

The passengers looked at each other with some uneasiness, whispering among themselves, and looking desperately to the flight attendants for reassurance. As the airplane started accelerating rapidly, people began to panic and some passengers were praying. As the plane got closer and closer to the end of the runway, the voices became more hysterical. Finally, when the airplane had almost no runway remaining, everyone screamed at once and, at that very moment, the airplane lifted off and became airborne.

Up in the cockpit, the co-pilot breathed a sigh of relief and turned to the captain, "You know, one of these days, the passengers aren't going to scream and we're gonna get killed!"

From the City Limits May Meeting

Mark Johnson showed his Tensor 4D foam biplane. The thrust put out by this electric motor is unbelievable! You'll have fun with this one Mark.

Ray Walsh showed the lower wing of his D7 project. He covered it with Nelson's iron on fabric. Ray showed samples of Nelson's fabric and Super Cover-Rite. Ray prefers the Nelson fabric. Ray has brought parts of this project to several meetings. It's nice to see a model in various stages of construction.

Mr. ingenuity, Harold Blossom, showed a portable frequency box he is looking to make and sell if enough club interest is shown. Call Harold at (608) 244-4614 if your club is interested.
